

You Da Only Man I Ever Loves, Daddy: Lot's Daughters

~ "It t'ain't necessarily so."—Ira Gershwin how you gon' let dem strangers touch me, daddy? how you gon' let dem strangers touch me? you say only you can touch me, daddy—'member?— you say only you can touch me you say we can' let my coat tear up too soon, say we can' let it tear up, say we can' let my coat tear up too soon, you say

if it do no man will want me, you say if it do no man will want me, say
 if it do no man will want me, you say if it do no man will want me guess it don' matter now no how, do it? guess it don' matter now, funny how jus' don' matter now no how, funny how guess it don' matter now mama done gon' off & left us, daddy look like mama done gon' off & left us, wonder why mama done gon' off & left us, daddy, wonder why mama done gon' off & left us

you da only man i ever loves, daddy, you know you da only man i ever loves, sho nuff
 you da only man i ever loves now i gon' have yo' babies, daddy now i gon' have yo' babies, so glad now i gon' have yo' babies, daddy, so glad, now i gon' have yo' babies
